Subject: Microsoft settlement

I am not a microsoft stock holder, but do use their product on my computer. I have no complaints with the way they market their programs. I have been using various spread sheets, word processing and other programs of both microsoft and others. I do not write computer programs, but certainly enjoy the user friendly programs that microsoft has provided.

It would be better if the law suit were settled and allow microsoft to continue to improve the product that they make for the public.
